JOHN P. HEPNER is duly authorized to act as Agent for the Home Journal to receive and receipt for subscriptions, &c., &c.

We are authorized to announce that W. NEWMAN as a candidate for re-election to the Lower House of our next General Assembly.

We are requested to state that Col. V. K. Stevenson will address the citizens of Winchester at the court-house to-night on the subject of taking measures to secure the completion of the Winchester and Ala. Railroad.

The revival of religion which has been prosperously progressing at the M. E. Church for several weeks, still continues. Much good is being done.

Quarterly Meeting at that church commences to-day.

DEATH OF REV. JOHN G. BIDDLE.
In consequence of other matter crowding in upon us this week, we are compelled to defer the publication of an obituary of the Rev. J. G. Biddle, who departed this life on the 23d inst., and whose loss in this community, as an able and efficient teacher and minister, cannot be easily replaced, and will be deeply felt and regretted; while as a citizen and a Christian, the community will suffer an irreparable loss.

It will be gratifying to the friends and patrons of the Winchester Female Academy to know that the school will be continued.

James Campbell has been receiving some more groceries, such as candy, knick-knacks and sweet things generally. Preparing for May parties, we reckon.

Our good friends, W. & R. Freeman, College street, have in store a lot of Pianos Forte of every superior tone and finish. Some of them are about as good as instruments of the kind get to be. They are manufacturing a number of looking-glass frames of unusually large dimensions, in a style which will add largely to the high reputation they have already attained for this description of work. Their establishment is the only one of the kind we have, and our citizens should be proud of it.—Nashville Patriot.

We heartily concur with the Patriot in saying that the people of Nashville ought to be proud of such an establishment. We were shown all through it this Spring, by one of the firm, and until then we hadn't the most distant idea that any house this side of New York could exhibit such an assortment of beautiful and finely-rotten up work of this kind. We refer our readers to their card, and if any of them should want to purchase a new piano, or melodeon, or looking-glass, or anything else advertised in the card of W. & R. Freeman, don't send to a foreign market, but go to Nashville, and, our word for it, if you are not suited at W. & R. Freeman's, you need go no farther in hope of finding a better house. That's our sincere unbiassed opinion.

RAISED NOTES.—The Lexington Observer notices the appearance of one dollar notes on the Northern Bank of Kentucky raised to fives. The change is effected by extracting the word or figure one in every place on the note, by some chemical process and substituting the word or figure five, in the lieu thereof. It is very shrewdly done and is well calculated to deceive those who are not perfectly familiar with the different plates used by the banks, for their notes are entirely different from the fives.

MARRIED.
In Nashville on the 9th inst., by Rev. A. S. Riggs, Mr. John W. Langley to Miss Amanda Carrie Morton, second daughter of James Morton, Esq., Cashier of the Bank of Tennessee, all of this city.—Nashville Banner.

The undersigned begs leave to inform the citizens of Winchester and vicinity that he is yet in town, and is prepared to put up Ambrotypes and Melanotypes in the highest perfection of the art. Melanotypes appear in lockets, breast-pins, &c., &c., in the most approved style.
